Wedding Gown Competition

Vote for the teacher that had the most outrageous wedding dress! Pictures of the teachers in their dresses will be posted on the bulletin board by the office. Vote by placing the name of the teacher you think had the most outrageous dress in the bin outside of Ms. Anderson's room (Room 409). Winner will be announced in the next edition as well as on Instagram the same day.

We HATE Valentine's Day! He Said/She Said

He Said:

As a guy, I don't really like Valentine's Day because of the way it's used. People use it to get quick dates which lead to free food or movies, and also just as an excuse to get candy. Those that believe that they 'need to have' a date for the Love Day tend to get together with someone then break up right away. Whether it was because they decided to, or if it was just because the person wasn't who they thought they'd be. Couples that have been together for awhile can use it as a reason to celebrate, sure, but overall I think Valentine's Day usually ends with a bunch of fake love, and expensive candy. That is why, as a guy, I think Valentines Day is bad. Too much money spent on candy and dates that we're all expected to buy for someone or another.

She Said:

For most girls, Valentine's day is all about love. How much he loves me, how big of a teddy bear he got for me, how many chocolates we ate together, and all of our big dinner plans for the night. Wow, really? Really? You're telling me that we dedicate one day of the year to the idea of love and give all the guys in the world an excuse and reason to buy their girlfriends roses and chocolate and oversized teddy bears? Well, let me just say this: if your boyfriend needs a day out of the year to show you how much he loves you and make you feel special then it's time to pull the plug. And that's why I hate Valentine's Day.

What's the difference between a calendar and you?

A calendar has a date on Valentine's Day!

Counselor's Corner: A way to encourage seniors to apply for college, Mr. Leitz is giving away $100 out-of-pocket to the senior who submits the most acceptance letters. Second and third runner-up will get $50 and $25, respectively. The deadline to submit acceptance letters is May 1st.

Faculty Section: Ms. Habetz

Ms. Habetz is a new mathematics teacher in the 400 hall, more specifically geometry, and this writer had the chance to talk with her about getting a picture, and I also managed to receive some notes about her life, as she was unable to talk to me about it, going to show how dedicated the teacher is to working. Ms. Habetz was born in the Rice Capital of America, Crowley, Louisiana (A place that I was made to look up as she didn't specify the name), and reportedly grew up there. Ms. Habetz had an interesting tale to tell me, though I wasn't given many details, she told that one time when she was nine-teen, she was almost kidnapped, taken from the streets and dragged away, she managed to break free and fortunately she managed to escape. Ms. Habetz has a certain thing for yellow Starbursts, Pugs, and the TV show Phineas and Ferb, which airs on the Disney Channel almost daily.

So, if you want to please your local Geometry teacher, maybe send her a pug dressed in a yellow Starburst costume carrying the DVD version of Phineas and Ferb? Or, to mix it up, maybe send a yellow Starburst dressed up as a pug along with a plushie from P&F? Just my suggestions to keep a teacher happy. Ms. Habetz is also been rumored to be in a relationship with one Coach Prescott, a thing that many a student has used to make a good-humored joke at her expense, and she seems to be a good sport about it. As a final fun fact, it appears that Ms. Habetz name is originally pronounced 'Ms. Hobits,' so its perfectly reasonable to call her 'Ms. Baggins' from time to time.

Student Spotlight

John Huzzar is a very interesting person to be around. He is fourteen year old freshman at Albany High School. Being the youngest of four in his family, he has two older sisters and one older brother.

For most of his life he lived in Independence, but moved to Albany two years ago. John loves playing guitar and listening to music: but most of the time he loves writing about social issues. One day he hopes to be a journalist.

If you have ever met John, he is a friendly person and is a excellent singer. He even performed in the talent show with the choir last year. One of his life goals is to help make changes easier for others. He also says he would love to live in New Zealand.

If you ever get the chance to meet and talk with John, take it because he is a great person to get to know.
